Conference Objectives

This conference will focus on understanding the basic medical needs of LGBTQ+ patients, especially for the aging population who feel that they need to go back to the closet in order to survive in the long-term health care system. Experts will outline steps to educate and counsel colleagues and administrators on LGBTQ+ cultural competency, encouraging systemwide progress toward healthcare institutions that are more welcoming for LGBTQ+ people. We'll also increase providers awareness of and adherence to LGBTQ+ affirming policies and practices at UC Davis Health and beyond.

Who Should Attend?

This conference is designed for physicians, physician assistants, nurses, psychologists, social workers, physical therapists, and other allied health care professionals interested in improving wellness and care for their LGBTQ+ patients, as well as students, trainees, community members and members of the LGBTQ+ community.
